COURT ORDERS NEW TRIALS IN JOHNSON ROAD DAMAGE ACTION

Two Adams county juries will be called upon to again decide what damage occurred to the properties of Jay D. Johnson, Gettysburg, when the new section of the Lincoln highway was constructed between McKnightstown and Caledonia.

In two opinions handed down Saturday, Judge W. C. Sheely granted the motions of the state Department of Highways for a new trial in the case.

Basis of the new trials was the prior decision of the court to permit the two damage claims of Johnson to be heard as one case. That, the court says in its opinion, was an error, despite the fact that the plaintiff and the defendant were the same in both cases.

Had Appealed Award
The opinion was based on a petition for a new trial and for judgment notwithstanding the verdict filed by the commonwealth. The first action followed Johnson's appeal from the award of the viewers of damages to his properties.

In one opinion, relating to the farm property near McKnightstown, the court overruled the state's petition for judgment notwithstanding the verdict. The state had held that a quit claim deed turning over the claims of Anna D. and C. W. Johnson, and Loretta B. Deardorff, original owners of the farm at the time the state decided to build a road through it, to Jay D. Johnson, "did not contain an assignment to the right of damages, because it was not signed by either of the owners

Lincoln Episode On WGET Tuesday At 2

"The Portrait," a play depicting an episode in the life of Abraham Lincoln, will be presented on the "Guest Star" program over WGET Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Jack Webb will portray the role of President Lincoln's official photographer in the drama, with others in the cast including Herb Butterfield, Warren Sterling and Jack Kruschen. John Conte will be master of ceremonies for the program which will also include a special arrangement of Stephen Foster's "Oh Susannah" by Harry Sosnick's orchestra.

130 ELKS HAVE APPOINTMENTS TO GIVE BLOOD

"Please keep your appointments," Red Cross Blood Donor service leaders here appealed as they mailed 250 cards today giving that many Adams county residents appointments to give a pint of blood each on the county's fifth Blood Donor Day on Friday at Christ Lutheran church basement.

The majority of the cards went to members of the Elks lodge of Gettysburg who have made the blood donor service one of their principal projects for 1952. A total of 130 cards went to Elks today.

Twenty-five C. H. Musselman company employees also were given appointments as were 10 members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. All five male employees of the Wolf Supply company, North Stratton street, also have Friday appointments. The other cards were mailed to volunteers in York Springs, Fairfield, Bonneauville, Biglerville, New Oxford and Gettysburg.

The blood donor station will operate from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. with local volunteers and nurses from the Baltimore blood donor center staffing the station.

This will be the fifth Blood Donor Day for Adams county since the service was re-established here last October. Four of the days used the Gettysburg center while the Blood Donor Day last November was conducted in Littlestown.

TRUCK DRIVER FORFEITS $50 ON CODE COUNT

A truck driver arrested Sunday by state police on an overweight charge forfeited bail today, two others paid overweight fines, a driver was fined for failure to stop for a red blinker signal and another for parking too close to a fire hydrant.

Hugh D. Rutledge, Winter Haven, Fla., forfeited $50 and costs to Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder on a charge that his load was ten percent over the legal limit.

Jimmie E. Dean, Columbia, S. C., paid $25 and costs to Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore for overloading his truck five percent and Bertram Illes, Hamilton, Ont., paid a fine of $50 and costs to Squire Baschore on a ten percent overload charge.

Donald A. Carr, Hamilton, Ont., was fined $5 and costs by Squire Snyder for running past a red blinker light and Emerson Spencer, Lawton, Mich., was fined $2 and costs for parking too close to a fire plug.

All of the charges were filed by state police of the Gettysburg substation.

DEER KILLED EARLY TODAY

An unidentified motorist early this morning struck and killed a deer on the Emmitsburg road just south of the borough line, borough police reported today.

Police said a motorist reported at 1:30 o'clock this morning that the body of a deer was lying in the road. Police investigated and took the carcass to the home of Game Protector Leo Bushman, Baltimore street.

Deer are reported plentiful on the battlefield, and many motorists have been attracted by the sight of herds grazing in the fields.

Thirteen deer were counted in a herd near the Weikert farm shortly before dark Sunday evening, and it is believed that the dead deer was from this herd.

Large herds have been reported near Roundtop, in The Loop section, in fields south of Granite road, and elsewhere.

HUNTINGTON'S SCHOOL CASE IS NEARER HEARING

The petition of the residents of Upper Huntington township to be freed from the Huntington township school district moved a step nearer a hearing today with the filing of additional papers by Attorney John L. Sweezy, of Harrisburg, for the upper Huntington school patrons with the county prothonotary.

The papers were in response to a petition filed by the township school board to dismiss the original petition. While today's answer claimed only that the township board was not specific enough in its motion to dismiss to permit an answer, Sweezy said that a full answer to the township's objections would be filed immediately after specific objections are filed.

Both Attorney Sweezy and Ralph Tyson, representing the upper Huntington residents, said today that it is their hope that a hearing can be held and the matter finally decided prior to the beginning of the new school year in July, and that they will make every effort to have the matter completed by that time.

Would Bar New Defendants

They also filed papers asking the court to dismiss the petitions of York Springs borough and Latimore township to be considered as additional defendants in the original petition brought by the upper Huntington area against the Huntington township school board. In asking the dismissal, the upper Huntington group argued that its quarrel was with the Huntington board and that York Springs and Latimore are entirely different districts.

Two hundred and thirteen residents of upper Huntington signed the original petition asking the court to remove their part of the township from the Huntington township school district, and make their section a separate school district so that it can join with the Upper Adams joint school system.

One of the first cases of its type in the state, the matter involves the continuation of York Springs high school, and whether a section of a joint school district can break away from the remainder.

Wounded Veterans Are Guests Of Lentz Post Over Week-end

Seventeen wounded servicemen and women from Valley Forge army hospital and the wives of two of the men were guests of the Albert J. Lentz American Legion post over the week-end while the soldiers and Wacs, all members of a class in American history at Valley Forge, toured the battlefield.

The group included wounded veterans of World War II and Korean war service, Wacs stationed at the hospital, and army nurses. Sfc. Gerald W. Anderson, instructor of the class, and a World War II veteran recalled from the Reserve, was in charge of the pilgrimage.

The two wives with the group were Mrs. Charles Salisbury, wife of Pfc. Salisbury, who was recently sent to Valley Forge after service in Korea, and Mrs. Gerald Anderson, wife of the class instructor.

The group, whose members ranged from privates to majors, arrived here Saturday after visiting historical scenes in Lancaster. Saturday evening they were entertained at the American Legion dance and Sunday they toured the battlefield, escorted by Dr. Fred Tilberg, and then visited the National museum and the cyclorama, which was opened for the group. They spent Saturday night at the Peace Light Inn cottages.

Twelve states were represented by the group of servicemen and service-women. For all except Sergeant Anderson, the trip was their first visit to Gettysburg.

Pfc. Salisbury expressed an opinion apparently shared by the group, "Taking part in American history sort of makes you want to find out more about what went before." All were enthusiastic about the battlefield tour.

The group returned to the hospital Sunday night.

1,794 Visitors To Field Over Week-end

There were 1,794 visitors to the Gettysburg Battlefield over the week-end, John Riddle, superintendent of the Gettysburg National cemetery, reported today.

On Saturday there were 560 persons and a busload of 30 additional visitors. There were 20 guided trips. Sunday's visitation totaled 1,204.

NEED $4,446 TO ATTAIN R. C. CAMPAIGN GOAL

The current Red Cross fund campaign stood today at $8,553.05, with $4,446.95 to be subscribed to reach the 1952 goal of $13,000.

The New Chester-Heidelsburg-Hampton-Hunterstown district is the latest to go "over the top" in the drive. This district, with a quota of $200, reported a total of $223.70 Saturday morning.

Abbotstown is close to its goal of $250 with $248.80 reported and returns still incomplete. Several solicitors in this area have not reported, the chapter office here said today.

The Fairfield district has collected $100.00.

Negotiators Discuss Possible Secret Talks On Exchange Of Prisoners; Are Near Agreement

Seoul, Korea, March 24 (P)—U. S. jet pilots today destroyed or damaged 14 Russian-made Communist MIG-15s in four clashes over north-west Korea.

Comparatively slow F-84 Thunderjets damaged two of eight sweeping MIGs that attacked them while they were cutting railroad tracks in the Sonchon area Monday afternoon.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said the Thunderjets escaped damage. MIG damage credits went to Lt. Irvin H. Tindal, Seaford, Del., and Capt. Robert S. Knapp, 3009 N. 19th ave., Phoenix, Ariz.

In three morning fights, the Fifth Air Force said, U. S. F-84 Sabre jets shot down three Red jets, probably destroyed two and damaged seven. Allied losses if any are reported weekly.

Small Patrol Actions

Only small patrol actions were reported across the 155-mile ground front.

The U. S. Eighth Army said three Communist platoons fired on U. N. positions northwest of the punch bowl on the eastern front Sunday, but the Reds withdrew under heavy Allied artillery fire.

In the first air battle Monday 32 F-86 Sabre jets encountered about 30 MIGs trying to break up a formation of Allied fighter bombers on a rail cutting mission. The Sabres shot down one Red warplane, probably destroyed another and damaged two.

Just before noon 18 Sabre jets raced to the rescue of another flight of fighter-bombers on being attacked by 44 MIGs. A series of dog-fights raged between 30,000 and 20,000 feet, with one MIG destroyed, one probably destroyed and one damaged.

The third air battle was a 35-minute melee that swirled south of Sinuiju, just south of the Yalu river border of Manchuria.

The American pilots shot down one MIG and damaged four others.

Action In Trespass Filed At Court House

An action in trespass has been filed with the county prothonotary by Joseph H. Ratcliff, Harrisburg, against Sterling Myers, Spring Grove R. 1.

The action is the result of an accident March 15, 1951, near East Berlin, in which cars operated by Myers and Lawrence N. Yost, Jr., Camp Hill, collided. Ratcliff was a passenger in the Yost car. He asks damages for injuries to his left leg, which he claims has been shortened as a result of the accident, doctor and hospital bills, loss of wages, future loss of wages and pain and suffering.

200 PERSONS AT YOUTH DANCE

Approximately 200 attended the regular Saturday night dance held by the Gettysburg Recreation association at the local high school cafeteria, Daniel J. Wolff, member of the recreation board committee in charge, reported today.

Of that number 159 paid dues and received membership cards in the Gettysburg Youth club being formed under Recreation association auspices. A total of 198 registered for the dance, but several who came later in the evening were not registered.

Plans for special activities in addition to the dances and ping-pong regularly featured at the parties will be outlined at a meeting of the program committee of the youth organization this week, Wolff said. A number of special activities are to be scheduled for next Saturday's party.

Members of the Recreation board in charge of the party Saturday were: Mr. Wolff, Mrs. Sydney J. Poppay and Mrs. Henrietta Blocher. Mrs. Charles Weaver assisted in the kitchen.

All activities at the affairs are carried out by the teen-agers under adult supervision.

Munsan, Korea, March 24 (P)—Allied and Communist truce negotiators huddled for three hours today discussing possible secret talks on how to exchange prisoners of war. A U. N. spokesman said, "We almost came to agreement."

"We decided to talk about it for only 20 minutes tomorrow," said Col. George W. Hickman.

He reported most of Monday's session was spent debating "limitations that might be placed on each side during an executive session."

The U. N. proposed secret negotiations Sunday in a move to speed agreement on a Korean armistice. As a preliminary step the Allies ordered an immediate partial news blackout on the prisoner talks.

Hint Confidential Talks

An official Allied spokesman said U. N. negotiators felt preliminary discussions concerning off-the-record sessions should "be considered for the time being at least in a quasi-confidential status."

He declined to tell newsmen what the U. N. proposed.

The prisoners' exchange talks were postponed for three hours Monday at the request of the U. N. command. There was no explanation. The session adjourned at 5:10 p.m. (3:10 a.m. EST).

Both sides have indicated unofficially that off-the-record negotiations might lead to a compromise agreement on the thorny issue of whether prisoners should be given the right to reject repatriation. This is the only issue blocking agreement on prisoner exchange.

The U. N. command said last week negotiators would be able to speak freely in an executive session since their remarks would not be aired in the press.

Fear News Blackout

Off-the-record negotiations would mean a virtual news blackout on the prisoner talks. Only the final agreement—or lack of one—would be announced.

Actually, however, newsmen never have been allowed to attend and only portions of the record have been opened to correspondents.

News of the negotiations has come from official spokesmen, the delegates themselves and from the official U. N. command communiqué.

Several times the first word of a major development has come from Communist correspondents at Panmunjom. Last week the Red newsmen hinted that a truce might be signed by mid-April.

Another group of staff officers working on truce supervision may put the final stamp of approval on detailed maps of 10 ports of entry Tuesday, a U. N. spokesman said.

D. G. SHEPPARD FOUND DEAD IN HOME ON SUNDAY

David G. Sheppard, 67, Orrtanna R. 1, was found dead in his home near Rock Top, west of Cashtown, at 11:15 o'clock Sunday morning by two neighbors, William Howe and William Riggall. He was last seen alive Thursday night. Dr. C. G. Crist, coroner, said death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage and probably occurred Friday.

Mr. Sheppard had lived alone for some time. His wife, the former Minerva R. Cullison, died in 1928. The deceased was a laborer. He was born in Adams county, a son of the late George and Ellen Kane Sheppard.

Surviving are three sons and two daughters, Edgar Sheppard, Orrtanna R. 1; Mrs. Charles Sease, Gettysburg R. 3; William Verder, Mont Alto; William Sheppard, Orrtanna R. 1, and Paul Ramer, Fairfield R. 1, ten grandchildren and three brothers and sisters; James Sheppard, Highspire, Pa.; Carroll G. CHURCH SCHOOL TEACHERS MEET

Continuing a policy followed for a number of years, the officers and teachers of the Presbyterian church school at their March meeting Sunday evening decided that the school treasury will pay the registration fees for young people of the church attending Camp Michaux, near Pine Grove Furnace.

Last year 14 boys and girls from the church attended the senior, junior high and junior camps at Michaux. Indications are that more may be going to camps in June and August.

Plans were made for an Easter assembly program and for the observance of Children's Day on June 8.

The Rev. Clyde R. Brown, pastor, told the group of plans for a summer training conference for school teachers at Wilson college in July.

Officers' reports were given by Secretary Frank N. Hewetson, who said a dozen extra chairs have been ordered for the kindergarten department, and Treasurer Russell Hackman. The next meeting will be held Sunday, May 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hewetson. Sunday's meeting was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hackman in Biglerville. Refreshments were served after the business session.

MOUNT ALUMNI DINNER APRIL 15

The twelfth annual "Loyalty Night" dinner-dance of the York-Adams chapter of the Mount St. Mary's College Alumni association will be held in the Knights of Columbus hall, McSherrystown, April 15 at 7 o'clock. At the same hour 31 other chapters will hold similar dinners through the country.

A highlight of the dinner will be a telephone conference hook-up with the 32 dinner sessions at 8 o'clock. Rt. Rev. Msgr. John L. Sheridan, president of Mount St. Mary's, and Thomas L. Gollibart, class of '26, president of the national association, will speak from Philadelphia.

Rev. Fr. Carl Fives, S.T.L., dean of the college, will speak at the McSherrystown dinner. Alumni may bring their wives or sweethearts. Dr. Jerry Krepps, McSherrystown, is president of the York-Adams chapter.

Rev. Fr. Hugh J. Phillips, executive secretary of the association, said there are 3,000 members in the 32 chapters and that membership is increasing steadily.

Tickets to the dinner-dance are available at $1.75 per plate.

Mrs. V. N. Buehler Dies On Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Virginia N. Buehler, widow of David A. Buehler, who operated a drug store in Harrisburg for many years, will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the funeral home at 1007 North Second street, Harrisburg. Mrs. Buehler died early Saturday in a Camp Hill convalescent home.

Rev. Viggo Swenson, pastor of Zion Lutheran church, of which Mrs. Buehler was a member, will officiate, and interment will be in Evergreen cemetery here.

Mrs. Buehler was a charter member of the Woman's League of Gettysburg college. She is survived by a niece, Mrs. Frances Whitman, Mississippi, and four nephews, Guyton E. and Arthur R. Buehler, Gettysburg; G. N. Book, Harrisburg and Dr. J. E. Book, Newport.

Friends may call at the funeral home this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Bookmart Thefts Reported To Police

Eight silver cigarette lighters valued at from $6.50 to $9 each and several albums of records priced at from $3 to $5 were stolen from the Bookmart recently, according to a report to the borough police by N. A. Meligakes, proprietor.

Mr. Meligakes said that clerks at the store supplied him with a "fairly good description" of one of the suspects and that this and other information has been turned over to the police.

"There has been a series of thefts at the Bookmart during recent weeks which we have been unable to break up," Mr. Meligakes said. "In the main they have been minor but when added up they total a sizable amount. I have withheld reporting to the police until this time, hoping the stealing would stop. Now I am determined to prosecute."

ST. JOHN'S AND ILLINOIS WILL MEET TUESDAY

Seattle, March 24 (AP)—Two veteran and two upset-minded teams—one each from the east and the west—collide here tomorrow night for the National Collegiate Basketball championship and a berth in the Olympic games trials.

St. John's of Brooklyn, conqueror of mighty Kentucky, and Illinois, Big Ten champion, are paired in the opening game of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) semi-finals at the University of Washington pavilion. They will decide the Eastern championship.

Kansas, Big Seven titlist, and unheralded Santa Clara, surprise winner over UCLA, Pacific Coast champion, and Wyoming, Skyline conference kingpin, will settle the Western championship in the second game.

Winners Meet Wednesday
The two winners will collide Wednesday night for the national championship. The finalists also earn a berth in the Olympic games trials later this month in Kansas City and New York.

Kansas and Santa Clara arrived here last night and scheduled pre-tournament workouts today.
For at the Seattle-Tacoma International airport forced a special plane bring St. John's and Illinois here from Chicago to go on to Portland, Ore., for the night. United Air Lines said the plane will fly the two teams from Portland about noon today.

Upset Of The Year
St. John's turned in the basketball upset of the year with its 64-57 victory over top-rated Kentucky in regional playoffs Saturday. Santa Clara provided the second surprise by upending Wyoming, skyline conference champion, 56-53.

Kansas captured the Western Regional at Kansas City, defeating St. Louis 74-55, and Illinois thumped Duquesne 74-68.

The Kentucky Wildcats, No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll, had won the NCAA crown in three of the last four years and were favored to repeat.

Scores 44 Points
Bob Zawoluk and Jack McMahon set the pace for the Redmen, with Zawoluk pouring in 32 points and McMahon 18. All-America Cliff Hagan pumped in 22 points for the Wildcats before he fouled out in the last quarter.

Zawoluk's 32 points was an NCAA tournament record for one-game scoring until All-America center Clyde Lovellette took the floor with Kansas against St. Louis. The 6 foot 9 Jawhawk star hit on 16 field goals and 12 foul shots (topping two other records) as the Big Seven champions rolled to victory.

Red-Accused Nun Was At Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg, March 24 (AP)—The nun charged with corruption by Chinese Communists was a novice at the motherhouse of The Sisters of Charity here, a member of the order said.

The Reds are trying Sister Vincent De Lude in connection with her duties in a hospital in Kanchow, Kwangsi province, China.

Three other nuns sent from the motherhouse here are still on duty at the hospital.

They are Sister Emily Kolb, New York, formerly of St. Agnes hospital in Baltimore; Sister Eugenia Beggs, Philadelphia, formerly a nurse at Seton Institute, Baltimore, and Sister Catherine O'Neill, Philadelphia, formerly of St. John's hospital, Philadelphia.

In addition to Sister Vincent, another defendant in the Red "trial" is Bishop John O'Shea, Deep River, Conn., charged with "killing" 34,000 Chinese children by "harsh treatment."

Truman And Wilson Talking On Steel

Key West, March 24 (AP)—President Truman and Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson waded into the steel controversy today with Wilson declaring a steel strike "would have frightful results on the mobilization program and the economy as a whole."

Wilson flew down here from Washington last night with a recommendation by the Wage Stabilization Board that the CIO United Steelworkers be allowed a three-installment wage increase that will amount to 17½ cents an hour by January 1 and other benefits.

Coupled with this was the estimate by steel manufacturers that they will have to raise their prices by possibly $12 a ton to pay for the wage board's proposals.

The union has accepted the WSB recommendations and has threatened an industry-wide strike of its 650,000 steelworkers on April 8 unless the companies agree. The companies have announced they will negotiate separately with the union on the recommendations. Talks are scheduled to start this week.

COATESVILLE 5 TOPS SAILORS; FARRELL WINS

By BEN FRENCH
Harrisburg, March 24 (AP)— Pennsylvania's 1952 schoolboy basketball campaign reaches a climax this week as eight surviving quintets battle for two PIAA state titles.

Farrell's once-beaten Steelers and Avalon's unbeaten Panthers are tabbed as favorites to pick up the Class A and Class B titles they just missed last year.

Farrell (27-1) meets Pittsburgh Westinghouse (18-4) at the Pitt Fieldhouse in Pittsburgh Wednesday while Coatesville (22-3) takes on Catasquica (23-3) at Hershey for the Eastern title. The two winners scrap for the state Class A crown Saturday at the Palestra in Philadelphia.

The lineup of Class A regional finalists was completed Saturday as Coatesville's Raiders scored a stunning 51-38 upset of highly-rated Swoyersville in Philadelphia and Farrell eliminated Westmont, 57-39, at Pittsburgh.

Kutztown (27-2), Class B state titlist the past two years, meets Shickshinny (25-7) at Hazleton's new St. Joseph's gym Tuesday while Avalon (27-0) takes on Slippery Rock (21-3) at the Pitt Fieldhouse.

The Class B state championship will be settled at Allentown's Rockne hall Friday.

Allentown won last year's Class A finals from Farrell, 66-55, while Kutztown defeated Avalon, 51-48. Both Farrell and Avalon are representing the strong District 7 (WPILA).

Catholic Champions
Meanwhile, Class A and B Catholic state champions were crowned over the week-end. Allentown Central Catholic, of the strong East Penn conference, won the PCIAA Class A crown Saturday by downing Pittsburgh Central Catholic, 49-37, at Allentown.

St. James of Pittsburgh took its third straight PCIAA Class B title by defeating Williamsport St. Mary's, 69-55, at Pittsburgh. It was the 65th straight victory over a three-year span for the sparkling Spartans of Coach Dick Diethorn.

Coatesville's convincing win over All-Stater Joe Holup and his Swoyersville teammates surprised even the Raiders' most optimistic rooters. The Raiders' whirlwind offense completely dominated the game. The 6 feet 6 Holup, who had scored over 850 points this season, was able to get seven field goals and five fouls for 19 points but his teammates were almost completely bottled up.

The well-balanced Coatesville attack was paced by Ernie Bryant and Rod Perry, with 11 points each, and Ronnie Brown and Jim Lopp, with 10 points each. Bryant and Perry took turns guarding Holup.

Swoyersville had been favored although the Raiders lost a 60-50 exhibition to Coatesville last month.

Bottle Up McCoy
Farrell showed that it is more than a one-man team as it defeated Westmont, District 6 champion, with ease despite All-Stater Julius McCoy being held to six points—the lowest in two seasons for the bespectacled star.

Westmont concentrated its defense on McCoy with the result that Bob Hoffman, 5 feet 10 guard, got loose for 19 points and forward Paul Flint for 14. McCoy, in an attempt to get away to score, picked up four early personal fouls and spent much of the game on the bench.

Bob Sharkey, Westmont's 6 foot 6 center, led the Hilltoppers with six field goals and eight fouls for 20 of Westmont's 39 points. Farrell had defeated Westmont, 58-38, last December.

People Love Baseball
"The reason they are growing is that they are eating better since the occupation. Before the war we mostly were fish and rice eaters. Now the young ones are eating more meat and vegetables and it is making a difference you can see. I really believe that within another generation, or even less than that, our champions will be playing your teams on even terms. We always were fine fielders."

The first Japanese professional league of eight clubs was formed back in 1935. The man given credit for its formation and its early growth is Lefty O'Doul, who was always making trips over there in those days.

Something which might not be generally known is that the Japanese had their pro ball right through the war, just as we did. Presumably it was considered a fine morale builder over there, too. The crowds remained large and enthusiastic right to the end.

"Our people love baseball and the game has a great future in our country," Harada says. "It's our national game just as it is yours. Borough Election: At the election on Friday, the following persons were chosen:—(D for Democrats; W for Whigs)

Judge — A. B. Kurtz, W.
Inspectors — D. Sweeney, W., D. Kandlehart, D.
Assessor — George H. Swope, W.
Assistants — R. Smith, W., Solomon Powers, D.
Constables — Nich. Weaver, W., Wm. White, D.

Married: On the 21st inst., by the Rev. Jacob Ziegler, Mr. Alfred Miller, of Cumberland township, to Mrs. Mary Ann M. Wirtz, of this borough.

The Pennsylvania Canal is now in navigable order, and business has commenced upon it.

The storm on St. Patrick's day has been a very general one over the country and will pass very well for our vernal equinoctial. We expect there have been a good many disasters on the coast.

Those of our subscribers who intend to change their place of residence on the 1st of April, are requested to give us notice of their "whereabouts."

The Irish exodus continues with unabated rapidity and extent. The packet ship Manhattan which arrived at New York on Wednesday, brought over seven hundred and fifty-three immigrants.

The Emperor of Russia, at the last accounts, was pushing on his great railroad from St. Petersburg to Warsaw, with extraordinary activity. The number of workers at present exceeds 10,000, and they work during part of the night. All the rails necessary for the immense line are to be delivered by the end of July, and the contracts for the supply of locomotives have been signed.

The Steamer Asia sailed from New York for Liverpool on Wednesday, with 72 passengers and $84,000 in specie.

Services will be held every night next week in St. James Lutheran church. On Friday morning, (Good Friday) services will be held at 10 o'clock.

One day this week, Nelly Auginbaugh, a young daughter of Mr. William Auginbaugh, of this place, while leaving the public school building on High street, fell and broke her arm.

The exhibition and concert in Agricultural Hall, by the colored people, on the 20th inst., for the benefit of the A.M.E. Zion church, was quite a success. They realized $54.15, netting clear of all expenses $39.65. They return thanks to the public for their very liberal patronage.

Extensive Improvements have been made in the 1st National Bank building, corner of Diamond and Chambersburg street, Mr. J. M. Minnigh will transfer to it his Ice Cream Saloon and Confectionery.

Mr. E. H. Minnigh takes his old stand on Chambersburg street, vacated by J. M. Minnigh, and will re-open a confectionery and Ice Cream Saloon.

On Friday evening as Mr. John B. Hamilton, of Butler township, was leaving Gettysburg, on his return home, driving a two-horse wagon, and had reached the bridge on Carlisle street, one of the horses, probably frightened by the whistle of the incoming train, suddenly reared on his hind legs and fell over dead.

Messrs. Isaac Staub, Wm. Staub, John Hufford and Wm. Spangler, of Littlestown, have removed to Pottsville, Md., where they will carry on coach-making, under the first name of Staub, Spangler & Co.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

RESPECT

Respect is the vestibule door to love. Without respect love becomes an idle dream. We are wary of the one whom we do not respect. He inspires no confidence in us. Respect is essential to important leadership, just the same as it is to genuine friendship.

Character, first of all, is what invites respect, for it is the sum total of all the elements in one's nature that stand for integrity, sincerity of effort and unselfish service. This respect which we look for others to pay to us must start with our own self-respect. Not until we have inspired ourselves can we inspire others.

How many times we have heard it said of a person that he had the respect of everyone. You don't have to agree with a person merely because you respect him, but that one is bound to impress you more greatly because you respect the man himself. We get along best with those whom we respect.

When the nations of this world come to the time when they will have honest respect for one another, and will talk over their differences together in frank fashion, we can then just forget about spending the greater part of our substance in worry and taxes, and dismiss all our fears as to war. International respect could change the course of history—and how happily, if all nations were to respect one another. Not merely their physical and economic resources, but their sincere spiritual convictions.

We can learn a great deal from the one with whom we may have differences, but to whose judgment and intelligence we pay our respects. People listen to the one who thinks and says what he believes, whether others hold his views or not. Under all circumstances we should respect courage and independent expression.

Let us be tolerant and understanding—respect the views of the other fellow, giving him credit for his knowledge, beliefs, and achievements, and then try and render some service in return for what we have learned from him.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Don't Curtain Your Memories."

MAGICIAN

I know he's a clever deceiver. I know that the feat cannot be. I know when I watch a magician I cannot believe what I see. I know when a card I am choosing, the choice will be his that I make; And the card I select will be always the one he has forced me to take.

I know that his steel rings are fashioned for me to inspect as I will, But to part them and join them so deftly is a rare exhibition of skill. I know that the coins he produces unseen through his fingers must run; But, amazed at the magic of palming, I marvel that it can be done.

I know that his hand must be quicker than ever the spectator's eye. I know that he isn't a wizard; no more of a wizard than I. But still I am fond of magicians. Their tricks, new or old, I enjoy; And should one request it this evening I'd lend him my watch to destroy.

Want Fine To Probe Loss Of Textiles

Harrisburg, March 24 (AP) — The Pennsylvania state Chamber of Commerce wants Gov. John S. Fine to investigate what it terms "serious losses" of the state's textile industry to other states.

The chamber's board of directors, at a weekend session, adopted a resolution acknowledging that many textile mills "are migrating, especially to southern states."

The board asked the governor to name a committee "to study the problems of the textile industry and make the necessary recommendations and suggestions for action to prevent the further loss of, and to recover, this important and historic industry in the state."

Another resolution urged Congress to discontinue wage and price controls on June 30, instead of extending them as now proposed in pending legislation.

Steel Wage Boost May End Controls

Washington, March 24 (AP) — Sen. Maybank (D-SC) said today that Congress may refuse to extend controls if the Truman administration allows steel industry wage and price boosts which lift the bars on inflation.

Maybank told a reporter he intends to invite Defense Mobilization Chief Charles E. Wilson to Capitol Hill to explain the steel situation as soon as Wilson returns from conferences with President Truman at Key West, Fla.

"I think Truman and Wilson had better be very careful what they decide to do—and I say that respectfully," said Maybank, who is chairman of both the Senate Banking committee and the Senate-House committee on defense production.

He added: "The cost of living has just started going down, according to the government's index. Apparently we have inflation licked. But if we are going to have another spiral of inflation—through the efforts of Truman and Wilson in this steel situation—Congress probably won't think it necessary to have any more controls. We're supposed to be putting on the brakes, and we can't have some government official, regardless of whether it may be Wilson or anyone else, going off in a different direction."

Sendai, Japan, March 22 (AP) — Four Japanese farmers were killed and three wounded Friday by grenades tossed by American soldiers on a drill ground near here, the U.S. Army said. The area had been put off limits by the Army but apparently the Japanese farmers were not aware of the restriction.

Weekly Farm And Garden Section

For Big Home Garden Yield Sow Efficient Vegetables

Before you buy seeds for a Liberty garden this spring, devote a few evenings to considering what vegetables you will grow. To some extent, the list will depend upon the amount of space you devote to this patriotic leisure-time activity.

Heaviest yield from small space can be obtained from vegetables of which we eat the leaves. These include the "greens" which are cooked, and the salad leaves, which are eaten raw. They yield so abundantly they are usually overplanted.

Next in food production, compared to space occupied, are vegetables of which we eat the roots, stems, or seed pods. Beets, carrots, parsnips, broccoli, snap beans, turnips and onions all give heavy yields, are rich in calorie value, vitamins and minerals.

Don't discard any of these on the theory that you do not like them, unless you have eaten them when half grown, fresh from the garden. This is an experience which only home gardeners can enjoy, and it will give anyone a new conception of how delicious vegetables can be.

Vegetables which give the lowest return in food value for the space they occupy are those of which we eat the seed or fruits, such as melons, cucumbers, squash, sweet corn, peas, and lima beans. But if you can grow these on stakes, trellises or fences, thus exploiting the air rights of your garden area, you can afford these luxury crops even in a small garden.

Tomatoes should be grown in every garden, pruned and staked preferably, so they take up no more soil space than carrots, yet yield abundantly over a long season. Cucumbers, melons and pole lima beans are all good crops for training on a garden fence, where they yield well.

A plan which keeps your garden space busy throughout the season will require some study. The crops which require most planning are those which give short harvest and should be planted for several crops, maturing one after the other. The tendency is to sow too much in the spring, so there is more than you can use for the first harvest, then a scarcity later on.

The faster a vegetable grows, the less time it remains in good table condition after it matures. To prevent waste, you must sow at first only enough seed to produce the vegetables you can use before they lost quality. Then make other sowings, to mature in succession, so you always have a new crop, in harvest or approaching it.

This takes figuring, but is not really difficult. A few hours devoted to planning this winter, will save much wasted effort in the spring and summer. To enjoy a garden, you should keep it as small as practical, fertilize it richly, give it plenty of water, protection against insects, and good cultivation. Such a garden if well planned will produce as large a harvest, of superior quality, and with less work, than twice as much space, upon which the same amount is expended without a plan.

will kill the pests. Because pea aphids are pale green in color, they are often difficult to detect against the light foliage.

Many gardeners report that early peas are ravaged by a small white maggot that eats the germinating seed. This is the seed corn maggot and not, as many persons believe, the cabbage root maggot. Use of fresh manure or even well rotted manure directly in the rows tends to attract these pests. Shallow coverage of the seed and rapid germination help to reduce the danger. There are no direct methods of combat.

Year after year readers report that birds ravage their garden peas. Of course, it is unwise as well as illegal to kill birds. But some scope of crop protection is becoming increasingly necessary. Last year the editor experimented with the whirling strips of metallic-like paper which many filling stations featured. In every test a few of these stretched across garden beds frightened birds away. The idea is well worth a trial.

CALLS ELECTION FOR EGYPTIANS

Cairo, March 24 (AP)—King Farouk dissolved Parliament's Wafd-dominated lower house today and called a new general election May 18. The royal action was requested by the cabinet of independent Prime Minister Ahmed Naguib Hilaly Pasha.

Farouk's decree also ordered the new chamber of deputies to meet on May 31.

The dissolution did not affect the Senate, which also is dominated by the anti-British Wafd faction. There was speculation, however, that the government might soon request Farouk to make changes in the Senate membership to remove this Wafd majority. Only three-fifths of the senators are elected. The rest are appointed by the king.

Interior Minister Ahmed Mortada el Maraghy Bey told newsmen no provision had been made yet for the firing of martial law, which was clamped on Egypt on January 26 after the disastrous fire riots in Cairo. He added, however, that the government would take "all necessary measures to ensure a free election."

Propaganda Minister Farid Zalouk said last night that martial law would be lifted for the election period.

VFW POST WILL HOLD ELECTION

Election of officers will take place at the second March meeting of the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, Veterans of Foreign Wars, on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the post home, West King street. Those nominated to office at the previous meeting were as follows: Commander, Kenneth Sparver and Monroe J. Stately; senior vice, Bernard Kuhns, Kenneth Halter and Francis Ridinger; junior vice, James Kuhns; quartermaster, Edgar Redding; chaplain, Dewey Baumgardner; officer of the day, Robert L. Snyder and Luther Hankey; trustee, John R. Bloom; guard, Lloyd Harner. Printed ballots will be used.

An organization meeting of a Little (Midget) Baseball league for Littlestown will be held on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at Boyd's store, East King street. Election of officers will take place and committees will be appointed. Representatives of the 11 organizations who attended the first meeting following the Chamber of Commerce dinner session in February are invited to attend.

Carol Ann Crouse, infant daughter of Glenn and Patricia Kress Crouse, Newark street, was baptized on Sunday morning in St. Aloysius Catholic church, by the pastor, the Rev. Fr. Edward J. Shanahan, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Hull, Maple avenue, maternal aunt and uncle of the child, were the baptismal sponsors.

To Wear New Vestments

The annual collection for the Bishop's Relief fund was received at the Sunday masses in St. Aloysius church, the pastor, Father Shanahan, announced that Tuesday will be the Feast of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary and at the mass that morning at 8 o'clock, he will wear the new set of vestments for the first time. The vestments are the gift of Mrs. Emma Weaver. On Tuesday at 1:15 p.m., Father Shanahan will be the speaker on "The Catholic Hour" broadcast in Hanover. He will speak on "The Sixth Commandment." Following the March meeting of St. Aloysius Parish Council of Catholic Women Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the parish hall, a joint meeting of the men and women of the parish will be held for the purpose of discussing the proposed renovations and alterations to be made in the church.

"Shadow of the Great Rock" was the topic of discussion at the March meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of St. Luke's Union church Friday evening at the church. The Lenten devotions were in charge of the Rev. Edward R. Hamme, pastor of the Reformed church. The topic was presented with responsive readings by the group with Mrs. Guy McCabe and Mrs. John H. Hartlaub as leaders. A quartet composed of Doris Good, Shirley Bixler, Myrtle Good and Marie Flickinger sang "He Is Mine" and "What Wondrous Love" accompanied by Eileen Hartlaub. The closed with prayer offered by the Rev. Oscar E. Feeman, pastor of the Lutheran church.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Guy McCabe. The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Parr Breighner. Mrs. Grant Appler was received into the society membership. A communication was read from Mrs. William H. Banks, Hanover, announcing the spring convention of the Reformed Nevins Regional Guild on Sunday, April 27, at First Trinity church, York. No delegates were appointed to the convention. It was also announced that the Lutheran Tri-annual convention will be held in the spring in Altoona. The meeting closed with the Lord's prayer repeated in unison. Thirteen members and eleven visitors were in attendance. The next meeting will be held Friday, April 18, 7:30 p.m. at the church with Mrs. Oscar E. Feeman as leader for the topic discussion.

Rotary To Meet
David Hooper, Hollinger apartments, South Queen street, received the Appreciation Day award at the program on Saturday evening. He received 10 percent of the total jackpot which contained $420.

The members of the Littlestown Girl Scout Troop committee will hold their monthly meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the committee president, Mrs. John E. Stambaugh, M street.

Ruth Bucher will be the leader for the topic discussion at the March meeting of the Girls' Guild of St. Paul's Lutheran church on Tuesday evening, 7:30 o'clock at the church. The Fellowship and Attendance committee composed of A. W. Schott, chairman, Mervin Harner, Roy D. Knouse and Richard A. Little will be in charge of the program at the regular meeting of the Littlestown Rotary club on Tuesday evening at 6:15 o'clock at Schott's hotel.

Council Meets Tuesday
The March meeting of the Littlestown Borough Council will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the office of the borough secretary, Roger J. Keefer, North Queen street.

"The Love of Money" was the title of the sermon presented by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds at the Sunday morning worship service at Redeemer's Reformed church. The Senior choir sang the anthem "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," by Bach, accompanied by Miss Shirley Goldberg, church organist. A special offering was received for "One Great

G. Howard Koons. A special offering was received for the denomination's World Service program, "One Great Hour of Sharing," for the benefit of the homeless and destitute. The pastor announced that the catechetical class will meet next Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the church.

Mrs. Delphia J. Sterner, 624 West Middle street, Hanover, will be hostess to the King's Daughters Sunday school class of Christ church for the monthly meeting on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A white elephant party will be the social feature of the evening and each member is requested to bring a 25-cent gift for the party.

Mrs. Emma White, South Queen street, has returned home after spending several days last week visiting with relatives and friends in Philadelphia.

Explosions And Fire
Sweep Chemical Plant

Philadelphia, March 24 (AP)—A fire coupled with several explosions swept through a North Philadelphia chemical plant early today. Four firemen were overcome by smoke but no other injuries were reported.

More than 150 firemen and 20 pieces of apparatus fought the blaze as 3,000 residents of the area watched.

Deputy Fire Commissioner George Hink said the blaze started among drums of fat in the one-story factory occupied jointly by Hardesty Industries, Inc., and Jacob Stern and Son, Inc. No estimate of damage was immediately available.

The Hardesty firm renders animals and the Stern company manufactures grease, tallow and other products.

The population of Rotterdam is about 675,000.

BIGGEST ARMY
MANEUVERS WILL BEGIN TONIGHT

Fort Hood, Tex., March 24 (AP)—At one minute after midnight tonight the nation's biggest armed forces maneuvers since World War II begin.

From then until April 11, huge masses of men—115,000 to 120,000—will undergo realistic combat experience designed to make them better warriors.

Exercise LONG HORN is expected to bring into play some war lessons learned in Korea.

Battle situations will be allowed to develop pretty much as if the 82nd Airborne Division from Fort Bragg, N. C.—the backbone of the "aggressors"—were actually a foreign force invading the U. S.

The 2nd Airborne Division paratroopers have been making practice air drops to prepare themselves for their attack which will set the maneuvers off.

Dressed in strange green uniforms, distinctive crested helmets and fancy collar tabs, the paratroopers will make a surprise attack from the skies. Just when and where the attack will come is not known. Obviously, it will come soon after the maneuvers start.

The "U. S." defenders will have numerically superior forces to draw on. In fact they will have two infantry divisions and one armored division to back them up. But the surprise nature of the aggressors' initial attack may give them some advantage at the outset.

COURT SESSION OPENS

Pittsburgh, March 24 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Supreme Court opened its spring session here today with 52 cases listed for argument. Expected to end by March 31, the session will consider arguments on the request of 10 Pittsburgh policemen for quashing of indictments. They were indicted on recommendation of a special state grand jury investigating vice and corruption.

Truck Only Clue In Liquor Store Robbery

Philadelphia, March 24 (AP)—Police today had one clue—an abandoned truck—in a state liquor store burglary which netted the thieves an estimated $8,000 to $10,000 worth of whiskey.

The burglary was discovered late last night by an off-duty policeman, Richard Miller, who was taking a walk with his wife.

Investigators said the thieves gained entrance to the store by dropping through a skylight in an adjacent tire company store and then boring a hole in the wall to the state store.

Once inside they knocked out a rear wall partition and loaded the liquor into two trucks in the tire company's garage, police believe. One of the trucks was later found abandoned and empty.

Chief Richard E. Lindauer estimated the damage to the two stores and to merchandise in a third at at least $50,000.

WISCONSIN AND
NEBRASKA NEXT

(By The Associated Press)
While Wisconsin voters settled back today to a week of being wooed by presidential hopefuls, the Nebraska electorate heard talk of a "write-in" drive.

Both states hold primaries April 1 and, as the final campaign week began, this was the picture:

In Wisconsin, Republicans had a choice among three candidates for the presidential nomination—Sen. Taft of Ohio, Gov. Earl Warren of California and former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota. All three were stumping for their states of 30 convention delegates. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's name is not on the Wisconsin ballot and the state does not count write-ins.

Democrats in Wisconsin choose between two 28-vote delegate tickets, both claiming to represent President Truman. But Sen. Estes Kefauver was waging a battle he hopes will sweep the board.

In Nebraska, Rep. Buffett's return home from Washington was expected to open a write-in campaign today for Taft. Eisenhower supporters already have asked newspapers to show how write-ins are cast. Stassen backers criticized Buffett's move and invited the Eisenhower people to align themselves with Stassen.

Nebraska's Republican primary ballot lists only Stassen and Mrs. Mary Kenny, who favors Gen. Douglas MacArthur. The Democratic race is between Kefauver and Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma. Both plan campaign speeches in Nebraska later this week.

CONVENTIONS TO TEST ASPIRANTS

Washington, March 24 (AP)—Four state conventions in the next 10 days—in Maine, Tennessee, Iowa and Michigan—will test the effect of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's popular vote appeal on the "pros" of the Republican party.

In all four states, supporters of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio have been counting on doing well in their campaign for presidential nominating delegates.

Prior to the New Hampshire primary and the large write-in vote for Eisenhower in Minnesota, Taft forces had been confident of getting the bulk of the total of the 108

Lebanon Valley
Treasurer Released

Harrisburg, March 24 (AP)—Auditors continued to check the financial records of Lebanon Valley college today after Treasurer Claude R. Donnemeyer was "released of all duties."

Dr. Frederic K. Miller, college president, said Donnemeyer was released at a meeting of the college's finance committee when a shortage in college funds was discussed.

Miller said earlier that Donnemeyer, a 41-year-old Lebanon resident, had been suspended pending the investigation. Miller said the college had been promised "complete restitution."

The president said the funds were "borrowed in an involved process" and described the shortage as a "loan, as we must call it up to this point."

The auditors were expected to make a report this week.

delegates involved.

The people don't vote directly on the choice of delegates in the four states and for that reason the selections are regarded as being largely of the active politicians—the "pros" of the presidential contest.

If Taft collects a majority of the delegates, observers will be inclined to discount to some extent the lasting effect of primary results such as Eisenhower's victory in New Hampshire and strong showing in Minnesota. Taft's forces apparently are assured of a good start in Tennessee, which will finish picking 20 delegates in an April 2 convention.

Eisenhower boosters could demonstrate there is substance to their claimed band wagon movement by capturing the lion's share of the delegate votes from the four states.

Senator Duff Says
"Ike" Holds Answer

Johnstown, Pa., March 24 (AP)—Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.) says he is convinced the Republican party can capture the presidency if Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is its candidate.

Speaking at a dinner in honor of Atty. Andrew J. Gleason, Duff declared yesterday: "This is the time when the Republican party cannot take a chance. We must change the situation in Washington. Eisenhower is the answer."

Duff said 40,000 miles of traveling about the country has convinced him the public is for the general.

Pennsylvania's junior senator scoffed at reports he and Gov. John S. Fine have split, saying: "There is no word of truth in it. If there is, I know nothing about it."

PRIMARIES GIVE PEOPLE TASTE OF DIRECT VOTE

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 24 (AP)—The presidential primaries so far have given a taste of what it might be like if the people in all 48 states had a chance to express their preference among presidential candidates.

But once again this year, as in the past, the Republican and Democratic candidates will be chosen by delegates, not by the voters in general, at the two big party conventions in Chicago this summer.

If there were presidential primaries in all 48 states before those conventions the voters might have been able to express their choice so unmistakably that the delegate-politicians would simply be limited to saying amen.

16 States Give Voice

By the time those conventions all around, of course, the tide of popular feeling for one man or another may have become so apparent that the delegates wouldn't dare any political conniving but simply would approve the popular man.

In 32 states the delegates to those conventions are chosen by party machines or bosses in state conventions or committees. In only 16 states will the voters have a chance to express preference among candidates or elect delegates.

But those 16 primaries are such a hodge-podge, each one differing from the other, that in only a few states like Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey and Oregon will the people have had a chance to vote directly on the candidates.

In New Hampshire freedom for the voters to vote a preference among candidates is an old story. They've been able to do it in previous presidential campaigns. Still, their huge vote for Eisenhower stood the politicians on their ears.

1st Year For Minnesota

This was the first year the Minnesota voters had a similar opportunity. Even though the names of Eisenhower, Taft, Kefauver and Truman were not on the ballot, the people went through snow to write in their names, even when they couldn't spell Eisenhower.

It was this write-in vote—the clearly-expressed determination of the people to name and vote for the man they'd like for president—that astonished the politicians. Nothing like it ever happened before.

And on April 15 the people of New Jersey will be able for the first time to express some direct preference.

But this expression of voter opinion in a few scattered states is a long way from what might be if the voters in all 48 states had the same opportunity.

Requires Amendment

If that ever happens, and at this moment there's no sign it will, the choosing of presidential candidates would be taken out of the hands of the politicians by the people. The big conventions then would be only rubber stamps, with nothing to do but okay the popular will and draw up party platforms.

Sen. George Smathers, Florida Democrat, has proposed that choosing of candidates in political conventions be abolished, letting the voters in the 48 states pick the candidates in a June primary and then, after they had campaigned, vote for them for president in November.

This would require a constitutional amendment, a long-drawn-out process which can't be done this year. It's up to Congress to start the ball rolling. Maybe it will and maybe it won't. It's done nothing yet.

$400,000 Blaze In Lebanon Sunday

Lebanon, Pa., March 24 (AP)—A Sunday morning fire damaged an estimated $400,000 worth of food in a four-story brick warehouse four blocks from the heart of Lebanon.

Firemen from nine volunteer companies battled more than two hours to keep the smoldering food from bursting into flames. It was Lebanon's second major fire in 17 days.

Lewis Reinhold, manager of the Sterling Wholesale Corp., who estimated the loss, said most of the damage was caused by water and smoke. The origin of the fire was not determined.

The building is the distributing point for Sterling stores, a chain of independently-operated grocery stores. It was eight blocks from the scene of a million dollar blaze that destroyed a large business building and eight homes.

Crystal Beach, Md., March 22 (AP)

Three-year-old Mary Margaret Kaufman fell through a hole in the first floor of her home, scored a bulls-eye in another four foot opening in the basement floor then plunged into 26 feet of water yesterday.

Her 23-year-old mother dived into the basement well and kept the child afloat until the father, Harry Kaufman, 36, arrived on the scene to fashion a rescue apparatus with a piece of board and a rope. The child was unconscious when brought to the surface, but she was soon revived.

Grateful passengers hoist a smiling J. W. Wetzel, Denver Greyhound bus driver, to show how they felt about his driving in a blinding blizzard that stalled them for more than 15 hours east of Goodland, Kas. They rolled into Denver after triumphing over a storm that swamped parts of western Kansas. Wetzel called them the "best passengers I ever had." They obviously felt he was among the "best" too. Senator Lodge To Seek Office Again

Boston, March 24 (AP)—Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass.) has announced his candidacy for a fourth term.

He has until August to withdraw from the Senate campaign—in the event the Republican National convention puts him on the national slate.

Lodge is national director of Gen. Eisenhower's presidential campaign and has been mentioned in some political circles as a possible running mate to the general if the latter is nominated.

In announcing his Senatorial candidacy last night, Lodge said he will work for a "durable peace," asserting that "without peace there can be no end to high taxes, high living costs and mounting casualty lists."

3 Children Lost Since Saturday Are Found

Lakewood, Wis., March 24 (AP)—Sheriff Joseph Foral said today three children missing for 40 hours had been found in the wilderness of Nicolet National forest near here.

Little Mary Ann Church, 3, was the first of the youngsters to be brought in, to the office of Dr. J. P. Dougherty at Suring. The tiny girl was conscious and after treatment began to ask for her family.

Her sister, Cathy, and their cousin, Steven Kennedy, both 3, were enroute to the doctor's office for examination. The sheriff reported by radio that the two older youngsters were "stiff and cold" but still might be alive.

Sheriff Foral's office said the three were found huddling in an outdoor toilet on the grounds of a closed resort in the winter-bound wilderness of Nicolet National forest. The three youngsters were missing since mid-afternoon Saturday and have been sought by hundreds of snowshoe-borne searchers.

Three Are Killed In Africa Plane Crash

Algiers, French North Africa, March 24 (AP)—Sixteen persons, one a baby, were killed today in the crash of a Lockheed plane as it was taking off from a desert field in Gao, French West Africa.

Three passengers escaped with injuries. All three crewmen were among the dead. Most of the passengers were French officials and government employees returning on visits to their homeland. The plane belonged to an African airline.

The distribution of warm weather types of plant after glacial times proceeded slowly and even today Ireland has far fewer types of plant than England and England has less than the Continent.

Blaze Threatens Atomic Energy Plant

Trail, B. C., March 24 (AP)—Fire stabbed at the heart of one of Canada's atomic energy operations last night — but missed.

The blaze flashed through the transformer room of the hydrogen section of a chemical plant at nearby Warfield.

It was brought under control in 45 minutes. The transformer was razed but no one was injured.

The plant is part of the huge operation in this area of Consolidated Mining and Smelting company, biggest lead-zinc-chemicals producer in the world. Guarded plants in the area also produce heavy water for atomic energy.

Washington, March 4 (AP)—The nation's cow population is dwindling, but the cows on hand are doing their jobs better these days.

The word came from the Department of Agriculture today. In 1950, there were 12 per cent fewer cows in the U. S. than in 1945. But they produced nearly as much milk, averaging 500 pounds more than their sisters of five years back.

233 Dead, 1,100 Hurt In Six States Hit By Tornado, Floods

Little Rock, Ark., March 24 (AP)—The living worked grimly at burying and rebuilding today in six tornado-torn, flood-affected southern states in which 233 died and 1,100 were hurt.

Throughout the region yesterday half-dazed people clustered for funeral services—sometimes for whole families.

The normal Sabbath still of small towns was broken often by the raucous chugging of bulldozers laboring at the debris, the rattle of trucks and the clumping of boards being piled.

Survivors of the disastrous week-end picked at what was left of their homes searching for something salvageable, often under the idle gaze of hundreds of sightseers who jammed the stricken areas.

At last count, and it was best incomplete and often times inaccurate, the death toll stood at Arkansas, 134; Tennessee, 59; Mississippi, 11; Kentucky, 8; Missouri, 16, and Alabama, 5.

Arkansas alone reported 711 injured and 1,452 families, thousands homeless, affected by the terrible winds.

In basements of churches, schools and armories Salvation Army and Red Cross workers struggled manfully to feed, house and clothe those left desolate.

An accurate estimate of damage was impossible but it was expected to reach into the tens of millions of dollars.

In hospitals doctors and nurses, eyes red-rimmed from lack of sleep, worked, to near exhaustion to aid the injured. Hospital capacity was strained to the breaking point.

Arkansas Gov. Sid McMath appealed directly to President Truman for funds to help the state rehabilitate itself.

He also thanked the President for his quick action in ordering federal agencies to make a quick check of the damage in all the stricken areas to ascertain the need.

Near Lexington, Tenn., yesterday they buried a family of six, lifted from their homes and hurled 300 yards to death. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Genie Duke, their daughter, son-in-law and two grandchildren were found in a neat circle in a field.

Worst In 26 Years

At Cotton Plant, Ark., the six children of Antonio Galan, a Mexican farm worker, were buried. The day before all six members of the Albert Ingle family were buried. At Dierks funeral services were held for six persons—all related—yesterday. And so it went.

There was an ironic story from Hartselle, Ala., where one of the

COURT ORDERS

or by anyone in their behalf." Basis of the commonwealth's contention was that while the name of Charles W. Johnson was signed in full on the deed there were no signatures above the typewritten names of Annie B. Johnson and Loretta B. Deardorff, only "Her (X) mark" written in ink. The state held that to be legal the names should have been written by someone and then the X inserted by the person whose name had been written.

Sustains X Mark

The court held that the intent was the question, and that "Her (X) Mark," attested as it was by witnesses and a notary, was sufficient signature.

The other opinion concerned contentions of the state that at the Caledonia cottage property of Johnson, the area taken for the highway did not belong to Johnson. The court held that the state's contention concerning a stone-pile, which it claimed marked the end of the Johnson property, was not established.

In regard to a new trial — or in this case two trials — the court held that "the objection of the commonwealth to consolidation (made prior to the original trial) should have been sustained, and since we cannot say that the commonwealth was not prejudiced by the joinder, a new trial must be granted."

Man Arrested In $125,000 Robbery

Reading, Pa., March 24 (AP)—Detective Lt. Paul Slapikas said today police probing the theft of $125,000 cash from a mid-city home have found $73,000 and have arrested a man for questioning.

Slapikas identified the man in custody as Paul Baer, 25, of nearby Mohnton and quoted him as saying another man had given him the money to hold for him.

No charge was filed against Baer. Slapikas said police were searching for the man whom Baer implicated. Baer was taken into custody on a tip to police headquarters by telephone, Slapikas said.

The $125,000 in cash was stolen during the week-end from a strong box in the modest home of widowed Mrs. Helen M. Bidden and her son. Slapikas called the theft "a darn good burglary job."

critically injured was little Brenda Kay Jones, 5. As the storm approached her grandmother picked up Brenda and fled to a neighbor's house. The neighbor's house was destroyed. The one from which they fled was untouched.

Judsonia, Ark., probably was the hardest hit. The business district was all but gone. Perhaps 75 percent of all the buildings in the town of 1,200 were damaged.

It was the most disastrous week-end of tornadoic terror since March 18, 1925, when 689 people died in Illinois, Missouri and Indiana. 18, 1925, when 689 people died in Illinois, Missouri and Indiana.

strapless marquisette ballerina length gown with matching stole. She carried a bouquet of yellow daisies with matching daisy headband. Miss Tressler wore a white strayslee net gown, with underskirt of yellow taffeta and a white net stole and Miss Wehler wore a similar gown with underskirt of orchid taffeta. Both carried bouquets of yellow daisies and wore matching head bands of daisies.

Reception Is Held

Mrs. Karl P. Bankert, church organist, presented a recital prior to the ceremony and also served as accompanist for the soloist, Robert B. DeGroff of Littlestown. Mr. DeGroff sang several selections prior to the ceremony and during the ceremony he sang "The Lord's Prayer," by Mallotte. The church was beautifully decorated with fern, palms and cut flowers. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the social rooms of the church for approximately 125 guests. Decorations of cut flowers and candelabra were used. A three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom formed the centerpiece of the bride's table. The couple received many gifts.

Following the reception, the couple left on a wedding trip of unannounced destination. For traveling, the bride chose a green suit with a light topper and a corsage of sweetheart rosebuds and lilies of the valley. Upon their return, they will reside for the present at the home of the bride's parents. Sgt. Eyer attended Quincy high school and entered the United States Marine Corps in 1948. He returned to the states in September after serving 14 months in Korea, and at present is stationed at the naval base at Patuxent River. Mrs. Eyer was graduated from the Littlestown high school with the class of 1948, and is employed as a dental assistant to Dr. Richard M. Phreaner of Littlestown.

SISTER OF LOCAL

Cormick Theological seminary, Chicago. He was assisted by Dr. Norman E. Richardson, Jr., Gettysburg, brother of the bride.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Channing Bulfinch Richardson, wore her mother's wedding gown, which was made of ivory satin, and antique lace and featuring a train. Her heirloom cap was made of lace and she carried roses and stephanotis in an old-fashioned arrangement.

The matron of honor was Mrs.

Frank Lydston Seyl, 986 Pleasure road, Lancaster, friend of the bride, who wore a soft blue-green faille gown and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of spring flowers.

Reception Is Held

Janet Channing Richardson, niece of the bride, and Margaret Tracy Philbrick, daughter of the groom, were the flower girls. They carried small, old-fashioned bouquets of spring flowers. The acolyte was Gordon Richardson, nephew of the bride.

The best man was Emmons Brown Philbrick, Central road, Rye, N. H. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Norman E. Richardson, 45 East Lincoln avenue, brother and sister-in-law of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Philbrick are spending two weeks in the south on a wedding trip after which they will be at home at 1510 Palmyra avenue, Richmond.

Mrs. Philbrick was graduated from the Connecticut College of Women and recently was a member of the teaching staff at the Buckingham School, Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. Philbrick is treasurer of a Richmond firm.

Mrs. Norman E. Richardson, Sr., held a dinner party Friday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg in honor of the bridal couple.
